A social Christmas entertainment was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brown on West Liberty street, in the suburbs of Gainesville, on Monday, the 26th inst. The guests began to arrive early in the day and each in turn were pleasantly received with the usual greeting of a "Merry Christmas" from the very estimable host and hostess, after which they were wenered into the dining room, where a large table fairly groaning with good things awaited them, and after the The accustomed ceremony the fowls flew away and other Christmas "goodies" fairly vanished from sight as each guest tried to do their duty to relieve the table of its burden.

The inner man being satisfied and usual jokes and toasts indulged in, the jolly crowd repaired to the parlor, where a beautiful holly tree stood elegantly decorated and bearing many useful and valuable presents for the grown people; wagons, horses, tops, balls and whistles for the boys; dolls, baby beds and other pretty things for the girls.

The tree was beautifully illuminated with candles of red, white and blue, The and as each one gazed upon it our hearts leaped with ecstacy and in concert exclaimed, "Isn't it beautiful?" The picture of the tree was taken by flashlight by J. D. Russell, after which it was carefully picked of its costly plumage, and each one made happy as their names were called and Santa Claus had so bountifully remembered

The afternoon passed with music, games and social conversation, when the guests took their departure for their respective homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Brown many more happy Christmas days.

Those present from a distance were W. R. Sharman and two daughters of Hawthorn, Mrs. W. A. Paulsen and It daughter, Laurel, of Orange Heights. Clyde Sharman of Hawthorn, Mrs. J. H. Patterson of Orange Heights. Those from Gainesville, Mrs. J. D. Russell and daughters, Fruda and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Becker and two sons, Mrs. W. S. Dorsey and daughters. Mrs. A. Cone, Mrs. Pound and daughter, Mae; Messrs. H. C. Brown and Reed Mortan; and now lastly but not has another indictment registered leastly comes the bride and groom, against him by the father of the young Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown.
